HOW DO YOU FEEL, BROTHER?

We are frequently amazed and worried when we count up the great number of people we know who are below par physically. They seem to be in a majority! We wonder what future is in store for a people who are physically unprepared.

Think a minute! How many of your friends are constantly taking medicine or running to a doctor? How many of your acquaintances complain of not feeling well, or of being tired? How many admit they have defective teeth? How many grant that they need more outdoor exercise? How many say they need a restful vacation but put off taking it? How many are secretly worried about their heart or some other vital organ? In fact, how many do you know who are

RADIANTLY HEALTHY?

One of the reasons why German Nazis have had such amazing success has been the remarkable physical standards of the people. Like the Spartans of old, Hitler is overrunning Europe by using the biggest, the tallest, the most vigorous and the all-around finest specimens of physical manhood in Europe. The news dispatches tell how the French people marvel at health and fine appearance of the soldiers in the German army of occupation.

The active outdoor life of the German people and the vigorous program of the German government toward national HEALTH is paying rich dividends.

Buoyant health is a great factor in any country.

In America we have a fairly good statistical record in that we are keeping people alive.... but we believe that as a nation we have more than our share of people on the verge of a breakdown.... of operations .... of oceans of medicine ....and of people who complain of not feeling well.

If we had a draft tomorrow, how many millions of our men are there who are PHYSICALLY UNFIT to fight? We dread to find the answer.

We need a national physical fitness program in America.

We need some sort of planning here in Appomattox to aid the health of our people.....and we don't mean taking more pills and cure-alls.

Clean, wholesome living has no substitute. Competent cooking has no substitute. Lots of good food is spoiled by poor cooking. Many persist in faulty diets or harmful habits that turn healthy bodies into aged tissue.

Why do our men in Appomattox die so young? There are over fifty widows in the town of Appomattox! Are our men so consumed in making a living TODAY that they forget about making a living TOMORROW?

Why don't we have a year-round playground? Why should it be taboo to talk about or to plan to remedy the problem of VENEREAL disease? Why do we permit residents to dump raw sewage on the surface or into small streams when we have a $70,000 modern sewerage system? Why are our tennis courts empty? Why did we have to close out our golf club? Why are plain and generally known SIMPLE RULES of good HEALTH violated — not just in Appomattox— but all over America?

Nothing in all America needs more attention that the problem of health.

We are a nation of snifflers in the winter and of fly-fighters in summer. We need more HE-MEN and less beauty-shoppe beauty.

One PINK CHEEK OF VIBRANT HEALTH is worth more than the red dabs of artificial coloring hiding the wan and pale cheeks of our womanhood "HAVE YOU SEEN HER WITHOUT HER MAKE-UP " will soon be a national slogan!

And most of our good ladies have to go to the MOVIES or go to the pages of a sex magazine to see what a REAL RED-BLOODED HE-MAN looks like!

We don't go swimming BECAUSE WE ARE ASHAMED TO BE SEEN IN A BATHING SUIT!! That goes for the writer, too!

Whatever else we think of Germany, we doff our hats to a vibrant and healthy people. We used to be that sort of people ourselves and we REALLY WENT TO TOWN then as a nation! Let's win back our national health! Let's do it by winning back our individual health!

HOW WE STAND

In order that our position may be fully understood right from the beginning of the 1940 Presidential campaign, let us state that this paper will not support the Republican ticket. We were not for a "third term" and frankly think the Democratic party made a mistake to try to break tradition. We think Roosevelt has been a truly great President. We think he has not added to his greatness by being a candidate for a third term. Had we been a delegate at the Chicago convention, we would have voted exactly as did our state senator from Appomattox Charles T. Moses. As to our own vote this November, it will go to the Democratic ticket, as always in the past. Our readers are free to send us their views on the campaign, and they will find us fair and impartial in our news treatment of same. No thing is more important in a free country than the right of each citizen to vote his own conviction. It is your right to want Roosevelt for a fourth or fifth term but for a fourth or fifth. It is also your right to want Willkie. We are stating our own position, and offer you our columns to state yours!

WHY THE BOO'S

Those who listened to the radio during the ballot ng and voting on Henry A. Wallace as Democratic nominee for Vice-President, must have been impressed with the obvious fact that the boo's exceeded the cheers at every mention of Wallace's name. What did it mean?

Did it really mean that the delegates didn't want Wallace? Did it mean that they were resentful at nominating a former Republican on the Democratic ticket?

We think not. Our own opinion is that Wallace adds strength to the Democratic ticket. Henry Wallace as an able man, capable of serving well as President and he will carry many farmer votes that fall.

Why then the booing.

We frankly feel that it was not aimed at Wallace personally, but was a protest against the tactics employed by the New Dealers throughout the convention. Thus, there were lots of men the Virginia delegates would have preferred to William Bankhead for Vice-President. Yet the delegation rallied to Bankhead as a plain protest.

The farm program has on the whole been the best of our generation. Mistakes have been made, but we think that Henry A. Wallace will rank as one of the greatest of all Secretary's of Agriculture. We are glad to see him honored by the party to which he has belonged since 1928. We have no resentment because he voted for Coolidge in 1924. At least he has been a Democrat for ten years longer than Wendell Willkie has been a Republican! We are proud to welcome men like Wallace to leadership in the party of the people.

HISTORY OF THE "THIRD TERM" QUESTION

In his oft-quoted Farewell Address, George Washington declined "being considered among the number of those out of whom a choice (for President) is to be made." However, in 1778 he wrote to Lafayette: "I confess I differ widely from Mr. Jefferson (Thomas Jefferson) and you as to the necessity or expediency of rotation in that office (of President) .... I can see no propriety in precluding ourselves from the services of any man who on some great emergency shall be deemed universally most capable of serving the public."

Thomas Jefferson said, however, that "the example of four Presidents" had given the two-term tradition "the force of precedent and usage." He added that "No pretext should ever be permitted to dispense with it."

Thomas Jefferson was the founder of the Democratic party.

In 1876 the House of Representatives adopted an anti-third term resolution and the United States Senate passed such a resolution in 1928.

Only eleven men in the history of the nation have had an opportunity to consider breaking the unwritten rule against a third term. Washington established the tradition, and it was not broken by Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Jackson, Grant, Cleveland and Wilson, with Franklin D. Roosevelt the latest to serve 8 years. Theodore Roosevelt and Calvin Coolidge served one full term and one unexpired term and are included in the eleven. Lincoln and McKinley were elected to two terms but were assassinated in office.

(Theodore Roosevelt was nominated to serve more than 8 years but was defeated in 1912 by Woodrow Wilson when "T. R." bolted the Republican party to run in the three-cornered campaign. But "T. R." had been elected to only one term, having succeeded to his first term upon the death of McKinley.

Grant sought a third term, but it was in 1880 after he had been out of the White House for four years. He led the balloting in the convention for 35 ballots, but James A. Garfield was finally nominated.

So times in the history of the country political parties have put in their platforms resolutions favoring a restriction on the presidential term.

In 1844 the Whig convention which nominated Henry Clay for President, adopted a platform declaring for a single term.

In 1896 the Democratic party met at Chicago for its convention. Cleveland was serving his second term as President. The Democratic platform adopted a strong plank declaring it to be the unwritten law of this Republic "that no man should be eligible for a third term of the Presidential office."

In no uncertain words, Cleveland had declined to allow his name to be considered for a third term.

The famous "I do not choose to run" statement of Calvin Coolidge is remembered, although at the time he made it he had served only one term of his own. He took over as Vice-President upon the death of President Harding.

In many times political leaders have advocated writing into the Constitution an amendment providing for one Presidential term of six years with no President to succeed himself.

Then in 1873 one of the political parties adopted the following plank: "That as both history and experience testify that power ever seeks to perpetuate itself by every and all means, and that its prolonged possession in the hands of one person is always dangerous to the interests of a free people, and believing that the spirit of our organic laws and the stability and safety of our free institutions are best obeyed on the one hand and secured on the other by a regular constitutional change in the chief of the country at each election; therefore, we are in favor of limiting the occupancy of the Presidential chair to one term."

Virginia is recognized as the home of representative government and the formative stages of America and Virginia statesmen taking a leading role. In that connection it is to be noted that in Virginia the Governor cannot succeed himself, being limited to one term of four years. Virginia has had many able Governors and has faced many emergencies, yet the one term rule for the Governorship has not been challenged.

ESTIMATE INCREASE

Final census figures will show that the population of Virginia has increased nearly 750,000 since 1900, according to Charles E. Stuart, census bureau manager in five of the nine congressional districts of the state. He estimated his prediction on returns from 16 counties and 25 towns in the area.

He estimated that the 1940 census would total 2,600,000.

Way "Build-up" Helps Will Interest Women

The cause of a woman's periodic suffering from headache, irritability, cramp-like pain, may be functional Dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, a condition that is often helped by CARDUI.

Principal way CARDUI helps is by stimulating appetite and the flow of gastric juices. Thus it may aid digestion; help build up a woman's strength, energy and nerve-force; so increase physical resistance to periodic discomfort.

It also helps reduce periodic distress for many who take it a few days before and during "the time." Your confidence in CARDUI is invited by its 50 years of popularity.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for July 28

WEIGHING CONSEQUENCES
A Principle of Temperate Living

LESSON TEXT—Proverbs 1:7-10; Isaiah 5:11, 12, 18-23; Galatians 6:7-9.
GOLDEN TEXT—Godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.—1 Timothy 4:8.

An intelligent approach to life calls for an understanding of principles governing thought and action. Our lesson for today recognizes that every act and thought of man brings consequences, either good or bad. Man himself must make the decisions of life, and what he sows he must also reap.

Masters of crucial importance to modern young people are involved in our lesson. They are asking these days, "Shall I listen to God's voice, or is that old-fashioned nonsense? What about obeying parents? Should I drink intoxicants? Everybody does—why should I be different? Of course, I don't want to be a drunkard or ruin my future life, but I'd like to have 'my fling'—can't I have it and still avoid disastrous consequences?"

The answers to these questions are in our lesson. May God help young people to find the right answers, and enable every teacher to present the truth clearly and effectively.

I. Safe Counsel (Prov. 1:7-10).

No sane person wants to make a fool of himself. He is looking for the right way and will lend his ear to good counsel. Here it is—"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge" (R. V., "wisdom"). Fear of God is not a cringing terror, but a sincere appreciation of His wisdom and a desire to do His will.

The best counselors a boy or girl has are father and mother. Only a fool will pass up the golden opportunity of profiting by their experiences and avoiding their mistakes, and will miss the opportunity of carrying forward their high hopes. Those who fear God and honor their parents will not be misled by the enticement of sinners (v. 10). They just will not "consent," and that settles it.

II. Steps to Ruin (Isa. 5:11, 12, 18-23).

Isaiah lived and ministered in a time of prosperity, which led to drunkenness and immorality. This in time led, as it always does, to the decay and destruction of the nation. We face similar moral conditions today. Let us not shut our eyes to the lesson so oft-repeated in history and in false security go on to national ruin.

We need outspoken and determined opposition in civic, social and religious circles to the liquor traffic and to all the vices that follow inevitably in its train. The portion of our lesson from Isaiah vividly portrays the downward path of the drinker of intoxicants. Ponder it well, young man and young woman.

III. Seedtime and Harvest (Gal. 6:7-9).

Everywhere about him man sees the inexorable operation of the law of cause and effect, of sowing and reaping, and yet he listens to the lies of Satan and of his own lustful heart and tries to convince himself that the law may be suspended in the realm of the moral and spiritual.

Sowing to the flesh always brings corruption. No matter how well educated, no matter what his position in life, or his family connection, the man who takes his first drink has started on the road to a drunkard's grave. Statistics reveal that the victims of drink come from every strata of society and every circumstance of life. Young people, be sure way to avoid the consequences is to not take the first drink.

Sowing to the Spirit brings "life everlasting." That, too, is always true. There is also another precious truth: namely, that by turning to Christ the one who has begun on the downward path may stay the ruinous hand of sin upon his life, may find Christ as his Savior, he finds regeneration and renewal of life.

The Works of the Lord

Praise ye the Lord. I will praise the Lord with my whole heart, in the assembly of the upright, and in the congregation. The works of the Lord are great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein.—Psalm 111: 1, 2.

As Lambs Among Wolves

Go your ways: behold, I send you forth as lambs among wolves. Carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes; and salute no man by the way. And into whatsoever house ye enter, first say, Peace be unto this house.—Luke 10: 3-5.

One Point of View

If we can not hope that life will be all happiness we may, at least, secure a heavy balance on the right side.

The God Within

"God worketh in you." This implies the actual presence of God at the center of our being.

Rev. Collins Has Enviable Record At Evergreen

In the thirteen months of his pastorate on the Evergreen field of Baptist churches, Rev. C. A. Collins has seen wonderful accomplishments in expansion of the work and upbuilding of church activities. There are approximately 700 members of the four churches comprising the field, Rooks, Evergreen, Central and Hollywood. There were 225 enrolled this summer in Vacation Bible Schools at the four churches, as follows: Evergreen 88, Hollywood 31, Central 63, and Rocks 43. This is a record standing as a challenge to any field or large city church. The field has had a membership increase of seventy-five in this 13-month period. Rev. Collins is now in the midst of his seventh straight week of revival meetings and has several more scheduled. This record of this popular rural pastor is an inspiration to all those interested in religious work.

Buffet Menu to Insure Success of Bride's First Party

The most important occasion in a bride's life after the return from her honeymoon is that first entertainment for her friends in her new home. It is wise to start off conservatively, as the success of any party depends in large measure on the smooth and seemingly effortless way in which it is run. The seated buffet supper for eight is the answer to a young bride's prayer, combining the warm hospitality of a dinner with the informality of an evening get-together. For this type of entertainment the linen, silverware, china and food are set on a large table from which the guests serve themselves and then sit down at small folding tables, each for four.

A famous hostess known for her parties suggests the following buffet supper menu as one which the young newlywed can prepare with enough ease to receive her guests without the flurry which usually accompanies a first party. She adds that she has found it a tried and true success with all types of guests.

Ketchup; Carrot slivers, Celery Creamed Sliced Dried Beef and Whole Mushroom Sauce
Deviled Eggs; Crisp Bacon, Cream Cheese and Pimento Sauce for Sandwich Spaghetti and Tomato Sauce in Casserole
Tossed Vegetable Salad
Ripe Olives
Hot Rolls

Here's the recipe for the novel vegetable mold salad:

1 tablespoon gelatin dissolved in ½ cup cold water
½ cup boiling water
2 envelopes tomato bouillon cubes
2 tablespoons lime juice
1 cup diced celery
1 cup shredded pineapple
½ cup shredded cabbage
1 cup shredded carrots

Dissolve gelatin in cold water, add boiling water, lime and cola beverage. Mix celery, pineapple, cabbage and carrots. Add to thickened gelatin. Pour into mold. Chill and serve on crisp lettuce leaves. Garnish with sliced olives and radishes.

If It's Heavily Advertised It HAS to be GOOD

OUR BRAND of democracy was won for us, and is being held for us, by men who chose their own careers, owned big farms, built big factories, and did what selling was necessary to keep those farms and factories busy.

One of the biggest aids in mass selling is mass advertising. In the long run, it "polices" itself.

Advertising of poor products always fails. Only a first rate product, fairly priced, can stand the dazzling glare of national advertising. When you think of the heavily advertised soups, soaps, breakfast foods, mechanical refrigerators, automobiles, silverware, radios—you are thinking of the aristocrats among commercial articles.
